It transpired that when Dr. Gillette went before the grand jury, where he is went before the grand jury, where he is accused of having committed perjury, OHIO IS AFTER OIL COMPANIES he did not know that Andrew C. Field, the Mutual's confidential legislative agent, has confided to Mr. Jerome all he knew about Mutual affairs.

At first, Dr. Gillette said that an account of $5,000 which he had in Field's bank at Dobbs Ferry was his own personal account, but when questioned closely, told Mr. Jerome that he was glad it had been brought up, as he had been trying to find a way of getting the money back to the Mutual, where it belonged. The $5,000 was part of the so-called "yellow dog" fund.

WANT CONTEMPT CASE HEARD. Government Makes Move in Tennessee Lynching Case.

The government yesterday asked the Supreme Court to fix a day for hearing arguments on the preliminary questions avolved in the charge of contempt preferred last spring against Sheriff Shipp, of Chattanooga; his seven deputies, and eighteen citizens of that place in connection with the lynching in March of Edward Johnson, a condemned negro, who had been allowed an appeal to the court The sheriff and his deputies were charged mainly with failure to protect the prisoner in their charge and of symbathy with the mob ir the lynching. They entered a general denial, and also raised the question of jurisdiction of the court.

The men accused of the lynching de-nied participation or knowledge of the affair, and many of them offered alibis. On concurrence of counsel for a majorithe case for argument on December 3.

Attorney General Files Ouster Proceedings Against Three Concerns.

Wants Standard to Do Business in Its Own Name, and Not Through Subsidiary Companies.

Lima, Ohio, Nov. 12.-Ohio's attorney general, Wade H. Ellis, to-day filed ouster J. M. Paxion, 1935 14th st. Cigars, tobaccos, who Betrayed Gillette?

Dr. Gillette told the grand jury that he had been advised not to say anything about the account, and in combating the argument of ex-Justice Edward W. Hatch, counsel for Gillette, that the latter could not have committed perjury before the grand-jury. Mr. Jerome declared that it was only, through fear or penitence that it was only, through fear or penitence that it was only, through fear or penitence that where the argument was heard before Justice Greenbaum, was represented by ex-Judge Hatch and Solomon Hanford, his attorney.

The argument was heard before Justice Greenbaum, was represented by ex-Judge Hatch and Solomon Hanford, his attorney.

The argument was made by the former, who contended that as Dr. Gillette had shown to the standard, the real purpose of the capital stock of the Standard, the real purpose of the capital stock of the Standard, the real purpose of the capital stock of the Standard, the real purpose of Justice Greenbaum, was represented by ex-Judge Hatch and Solomon Hanford, his attorney.
